Introduction

We want to remain flexible and understanding of all of our passengers' needs in these difficult circumstances. Normally, Icelandair publishes flight schedules up to 11 months in advance to give customers as much time as possible to plan their trips. As the world adapts to unprecedented challenges, it is necessary for us to adapt our flight schedule. These adjustments can include one or more of the following:

- Changes to flight departure or arrival times
- Changes in the frequency of flights
- Addition or discontinuation of routes

Based on IATA Recommended Practices 1735 carriers may allow Travel Agents to reissue tickets in the event of a schedule change. In this document you will find information on affected flights and guidelines on how to handle these cases.

Our first option is always to offer the passenger another Icelandair flight, if possible. When discontinuing or postponing routes, please note that we are cancelling flights and cannot always provide an option to reroute passengers, due to travel restrictions and uncertain airline schedules.

Planned Schedule Changes

What is a planned schedule change?

A planned schedule change is an adjustment to a flight schedule made by either Icelandair (FI) or another airline (OA) more than 2 calendar days prior to the scheduled departure day of the first impacted flight.

RESPONSIBLE PARTY

In planned schedule changes the responsible party is the issuing office, whether a travel agency or Icelandair, which will notify the customer and complete the transaction as described in this policy.

Adjustments to an Icelandair flight made more than 2 calendar days prior to the scheduled departure date must be handled according to guidelines issued by the airline ticket stock owner; the 48 hour time limit is considered from the first flight impacted by a schedule change. Any changes made to Icelandair's schedule within 2 calendar days prior to the original scheduled departure should be handled according to the guidelines issued by the airline that made the change.

Icelandair will take the following actions:

- Advice of Schedule Change (ASC) will be sent to the responsible parties schedule change queue showing the flight changes
- Notify the primary email holder in the reservation of the changes
- Monitor all unactioned PNRs and send reminders to the responsible party.

The responsible party will take the following actions:

- Reconcile the PNR by accepting changes and removing any old segments
- Ensure that all connections are valid in the new itinerary according to published minimum connecting times between all flights
- Advise the passenger of new itinerary
- Assist passengers according to these guidelines if the new itinerary is unacceptable.

CONDITIONS:

This policy is based on the following conditions:

- The affected flight is issued on Icelandair ticket stock (108)
- The schedule change is made more than 2 calendar days prior to departure.

Forthcoming Policy Updates

Please be advised the following guidelines are subject to change on short notice; updates guidelines will be sent if any adjustments are made to our policy.

ICELANDAIR TRAVEL CREDIT VOUCHER

If you would prefer Icelandair to issue your customers a Icelandair Travel Credit Voucher please contact agentsupport@icelandair.is,

The Icelandair Travel Credit Voucher can only be used for bookings made directly with Icelandair.

Rebooking

Due to the current situation it might not always be possible for Icelandair to offer an alternative flight. In these situations please follow the guidelines here below.

Automatic Schedule Change processed by Icelandair

At Icelandair we will always try our best to reaccomodate passengers to the next available flight to try and minimize the workload for all respective parties. An Automatic Schedule Change processed by Icelandair will result in a reaccomdation message in the PNRs and the flight segments status will be changed according to the GDS.

Icelandair will revalidate the ticket when possible, this preserves the agency control of the ticket.

- If the itinerary in the PNR and the ticket match the ticket has been revalidated by Icelandair and no reissue by the travel agency will be necessary.
- If the itinerary in the PNR and the ticket do not match the ticket will need to be reissued according to the ticketing reissue guidelines.

In some cases where a passenger has a connecting flight in the same ticket, especially if with another airline, this process might not consider these connections or the minimum connecting time. Please make sure to check if the connecting time is suitable and rebook if necessary.

Icelandair flights

In the case of a schedule change on flights marketed and operated by Icelandair the following rules apply:

- Another FI destination may be offered within the same zone.
- If no alternative flight has been offered or the alternative flight within the same zone does not suit a one-time free of charge change to another Icelandair flight at the earliest opportunity or at a later date at the passenger's convenience within the ticket's validity.
- Always book the same or lowest available RBD.
- Always rebook within the same cabin.
- G class with Icelandair should only be used for group fares, for group fares please contact your local agent support.
- The return flight may be changed to maintain trip length.

Alaska Airlines FFP passengers

When AS FFP passengers need to be rebooked on to OAL due to flight disruptions (both Schedule Changes & Irregular Operations), we must prioritize available AS flights over other airlines.
